Provincial Legislative Report

After doing quite well under it for 20 years, Social Credit has decided to abolish the transferable ballot and proportional representation system of voting in provincial elections.

A bill introduced by the government in the legislature last week would put Alberta elections under the straight "X" ballot—the same system used in federal elections. At this point, there is little doubt about the bill being passed.

The 107-page bill, introduced by Hon. Fred C. Colborne, minister without portfolio, embodies an entirely new Election Act. But the change in the method of marking ballots is the only major departure from the old act. Other changes are relatively minor administrative amendments.

Naturally, the first question to arise was why the sudden decision to scrap a system which has been used in the province since the UFA government introduced it in 1924?

So far there have been two distinctly different answers—one from the government and the other from opposition spokesmen in the legislature.

The government claims the transferable ballot system is so complicated the voters can't understand it, and the result is a large percentage of spoiled and rejected ballots.

The opposition says the real reason is that after what happened in the election last June, the government is afraid of the involved system under which a voter's second choice can be distributed. Social Credit representation in the 61-seat house dropped from 51 to 37.

There is room for argument on both sides. The transferable ballot used in single-member riding and the proportional representation system used in Edmonton and Calgary are fantastically complicated. In the provincial election last June, there were more spoiled ballots in Edmonton alone than in the entire province in the 1952 federal election.

After the bill was introduced, Premier Manning argued that no one could honestly say a particular voting system is weighted in favor of any individual party, in or out of power. He said the government believes there are "serious reasons" for a change.

Little Barbara Gibb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gibb celebrated her 5th birthday on Friday, March 16 when her mother entertained 26 boys and girls at a party in conjunction with the kindergarten. A variety of games were played and everyone enjoyed the lunch which was served by the hostess.

Services For Holy Week in Catholic Church

On Thursday evening, March 29th, the Mass of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated at 8 p.m. Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament will continue until Midnight.

The Solemn Liturgical afternoon service of our Lord's Passion and Death will take place at 3 p.m. on Good Friday.

The Easter Vigil will begin on Holy Saturday at 11:00 p.m. followed by the Solemn Midnight Mass of the Resurrection.

The Miladys Literary Club held their recent monthly meeting at the home of Doreen Purcell on Monday, March 12th, with a good attendance and one guest, Hilda Wilde present. Elaine Meeks gave a very interesting review of the book "A Night to Remember."

This is a detailed account of the sinking of the S. S. Titanic, written by Walter Lloyd who spent 25 years in research to get the full account of the tragedy. During this time, Mr. Lloyd contacted 70 survivors who gave much first-hand information to make the book authentic.

The members, very commendably, voted to give donations to the Hospital Auxiliary, the Public Library, Crippled Children and the Polio Fund.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

The Camera Club held their monthly meeting in the Raymond Public Library on Monday, March 12th. It was shop night and each one brought their own equipment and their problems. Mr. Kloppenberg discussed picture taking equipment, examining each member's tools, cameras, lightmeters, filters etc. which made an interesting and informative period.

In the picture contest which featured "Parade Pictures," Rayo Woolf came first with Calvin Hancock second and M. T. King third. The pictures are entered, not by names, but by numbers and are judged by a board of three, led by Mr. Kloppenberg and are judged from a standpoint of composition, lighting and subject.

Next month's picture contest will feature out door pictures of children in winter scenes.

Lavon and Laverne Robinson, R. N.s and twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson were in Raymond recently. Laverne is preparing to go to Creston, B. C. where she has accepted work in the hospital there. Lavon will remain at the Municipal Hospital in Lethbridge.

Stirling NEWS NOTES

At the Annual Meeting of the Sugar Beet Growers, William Eaves was returned as President with William Hogenes as Secretary. Clifford Hirsche was elected as the new director along with Wilford Brandey, William Mertz and Alva Wright.

Dean Michelson of the R. C. M. P. stationed at Saskatoon is visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. Verda Michelson. After he returns to duty he expects to take a six weeks course in finger printing in Ottawa.

At the Village Council Meeting held recently in Stirling, C. H. Christensen was sworn in as new town councillor along with Lyman Hardy, William H. Spackman, the new mayor, will replace William Hagensen who in 12 years of public office has acted 8 years as the mayor of the village. Perry Barton is Secretary.

The Stirling Home and School held their regular monthly meeting on Thursday, March, 15th with a good attendance present, including some students.

President Margaret Zaugg in taking charge of the meeting welcomed those present and announced the Warner Council Meeting to be held in April. She also spoke of the convention to be held in Edmonton in May and hoped it would be possible to send a delegate.

David Michelson read the Home and School Creed. Several speakers including Principal Lynchuk, Mr. Krulik, Frank Clawson and Mildred Hardy spoke on such matters as support of the High School Dances, the curfew and late attendance. A general discussion followed, with the students freely expressing their opinions.

An interesting film was then shown "Rickey and the Three R's".

The executive served refreshments.

The Raymond Library Board held their meeting in the Public Library on Thursday, March 8th at 8 p.m. The report for January and February was presented showing the Provincial library grant had been received.

Reports also showed that more people are using the library than ever before with an all time record set for January when 3,012 books were loaned with school children using the majority of them.

In February 2,379 books were loaned. During 50 library days in January and February 63 new books were put into circulation which brings the total number of books in the library at the present time to 14,500.

Much of the credit for the success of our library goes to Librarian, Della Woolf, who through her enthusiasm and friendly manners makes the visits to our spacious new library, attractive and very worth while for both young and older readers.

A complete list of books purchased in 1955 has been made in bulletin form and will be available to any one interested.

Rare Operation Lengthens Life of Baby

Seen here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grove of Stouffville, Ont., 12-months-old Bruce is recovering in Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto following a rare heart operation, in which his body temperature was dropped to 85 degrees, placing him in a state of virtual suspended animation. The child, suffering since birth with blockage of an artery from the lungs to the heart, was rushed to the hospital early last month when struck by influenza. The operation, performed by Dr. William Mustard and Dr. Harold Bain, removed the obstruction and restored his breathing to normal. The second operation of its kind to be performed at hospital, the newly developed technique "freezes" the body to reduce shock and surgical hazards.

Mr. and Mrs. Devere Dudley, nee Lucille Thompson, of Vancouver, B.C. are spending their holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson.

While she was in Raymond Lucille's friends gave a bridal shower for her in the Recreation Hall of the Second Ward. Friends and relations were present from Raymond, Lethbridge and Magrath. Many and beautiful gifts were presented to the guest of honor for which she graciously thanked them. A delicious lunch was served. In charge of the shower were Margaret Hall, Helen Phillips, Dolores Scoville, Lettie Litchfield, Shirley McLean, Rose Marie Dahl, Mildred Jensen, Gladys Kiddle and Irene Bowden.

March 17th Celebrated In Four Wards

Celebrating St. Patrick's Day and the anniversary of the Relief Society Organization, the four Raymond wards each honored the day with their own specially planned afternoon parties.

The 1st Ward Literature teacher planned the lesson on the Irish author John Millington Synge, to come at this particular time. Synge's one act play, "Out To Sea" is considered to be one of the best and the theme, "to adjust to what we cannot change", was well brought out under the direction of Grace Allan, supported by the cast which included Emma Redd, Bertha and Nora Stone.

At the conclusion of the play, Nora Stone sang the plaintive, "Kathleen Mavourneen", and Della Grigor sang, "Galway Bay".

Dorothy Nielson, who has worked in the Relief Society, was presented with a going away gift.

The lunch table was centered with a beautifully decorated Birthday Cake in commemoration of the Anniversary of the Relief Society. Also decorating the table were dolls representing the women who had acted as Relief Society Presidents.

The delicious lunch which was served also carried out the St. Patrick's color scheme and theme.

The 2nd Ward Program, conducted by President Nonavee Jones was as follows: Vocal solo by Helen Sabey, Sally Hippard gave one of her Original poems, and Dora Oler played a piano solo. Rose Hudson then gave a very interesting talk on the origin of the Relief Society. A hilarious skit, the original work of Virginia Wilde was enjoyed by all present.

A delicious pot luck lunch was served under the management of Elda Garner.

Maybelle Anderson was hostess to the Neighborhood Club on Friday, March 9th when the members enjoyed the evening visiting while doing their hand work. The hostess served a delicious lunch.

J. Wm. Knight, Raymond Pioneer, Passes In Utah

J. William Knight, son of the late Jesse Knight of Provo, founder of the Town of Raymond and the beet sugar industry here, died in Provo on Sunday, March 11, at the age of 91 and after a long illness.

The late Mr. Knight, the first LDS bishop of Raymond, lived here for some years as an official of the family sugar and ranching interests.

Lorraine Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Brown, recently entertained a number of her friends at a party on her 8th birthday. Games were played by the children until the hostess served the lovely lunch which included a beautiful birthday cake.

Good Crowd Enjoys Fine Fight Card

The Raymond Boxing Card got underway, Wednesday March 14th with 24 fighters trying for the 14 trophies so generously put up by our local merchants.

The first fight of the evening saw Buddy Hayworth of Shelby outpoint Jerry Hurd from Cardston in the 65 pound class, in one of the best junior fights of the card. Ralph Shipley of Glenwood then won a decision over Howard Windberg in the 100 pound class followed by 55 pound Dick Perrett from Stirling beating Billy Morton of Warner.

John Stimpson of Taber beat Eddie LaBaron in a hard fought encounter. Following this fight, Raymond's only fighter, 80 pound Monte Flexhaug bowed out to Roy Pierson of Taber.

Fight number 7 saw the best - fighter - of - the - night trophy awarded to Mel Henneque from Shelby whose heavy blows proved to much for 137 pound Steve Gedrask of Stirling.

Following this fight Charlie Smallface from Cardston won the trophy for best - fight - of - the - night shading Kay Nish of Glenwood in a very hard fought battle.

Harvey Retti of Taber then defeated Vic Sargeant of Chinook, Mont.; the only Southern Alberta fighter to win over the U. S. boys.

Kieth Conrad of Taber took a count of 9 in the first round and got up to win a decision over Dell Albison of Cardston. Ken Shelton of Shelby outpointed Ernest Moline of Taber.

Gale Sargeant of Chinook then won a technical knockout over 154 pound Mel Kuetbach of Lethbridge, in the first part of the second round and brought to close the 12 bout Raymond Card.

A good attendance of around 300 people attended the fights sponsored by the R. A. A. A.

The Book Lovers Score held their regular meeting at the home of Jane Brewerton on Wednesday, March 14, with a good attendance of members present as well as several guests including Gertie Fairbanks, Mildred Wood, Elaine Meeks, Jolayne Hill, and from out of town, Mrs. Steele Brewerton of Magrath. The guest speaker for the afternoon was Mr. Elmer Ririe of Magrath who gave a very interesting review of the book, "Your Life To Enjoy" by Wendell J. Ashton, which was greatly enjoyed by those present. The hostess served dainty refreshments.

Joyce Milner Is Bride Of Washington Man

Joyce Adair Milner daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Milner of Raymond became the bride of Bryon Robert Hostetler of Asotin Washington, on March 2nd in the L. D. S. Stake House at Raymond. Bishop Bruce Galbraith officiated at the ceremony held in the presence of immediate relatives and friends.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her white length gown was of white lace over satin, with a full skirt and lilypoint sleeves. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a white satin hat. She carried a bouquet of red roses in cascade arrangement. As matron of honor Mrs. Lois Heggie, sister of the bride, wore a gold ballerina length dress and carried a colonial bouquet of daffodils and carnations. Mrs. Alice Wilde, sister of the bride acting as bridesmaid wore a blue ballerina length dress and also carried a colonial bouquet.

Cheryl Rae Wilde, as flower girl wore a pink sheer gown and carried a nosegay of daffodils and carnations. Donald Nilsson was best man and George Heggie and Lowell Wilde were ushers.

W. I. News

The Womens' Institute held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mary Thompson with Mrs. William Paris the assistant hostess. The Roll Call was an Alberta Made product which was answered by the eighteen ladies present with twelve different products.

The Door Prize, donated by Mrs. I. Kitchen was won by Fannie McBride. Mrs. Kitchen gave a paper on Canadian Industries which featured the Making of Glass in the Medicine Hat and Fort Saskatchewan Factories, with samples which covered the glass making from the beginning to the finished product.

Mrs. Harold Stevens read two poems were donated by Mrs. M. Allred, Mary Thompson and Mrs. Henry Peipgrass. A lovely lunch was served by the hostesses.

RHS Comets Again Provincial Champions

The Comets again proved their basketball supremacy, defeating the L. C. I. Rams in the high school finals here Wednesday, March 14th, before a very good crowd.

The L. C. I. Club took the opener in a double overtime thriller beating the Comets 2 points. The home town boys were out for revenge and soon took the best of two out of three games to again win the Southern Alberta Championships for the 8th time in 9 years.

The first quarter ended with a tie score of 16. In the second quarter Raymond took a big lead and held it through the 3rd quarter. Both teams dropped in 16 apiece in the last, ending up with a score of 56-42.

The Comets now meet Red Deer for the Provincial title on March 22, 23rd, and 24th.

Dawn Mendenhall Weds Cardston Man

On Wednesday March 7th Miss Dawn Mendenhall became the bride of Mr. Willard Brooks. They were married in the Alberta Temple by President Heber Malkin. Dawn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Mendenhall while the bride groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Brooks of Cardston.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at Raymond on the evening of the same day. The bride was beautiful in a cocktail length gown of lace and net over satin with full fashioned skirt, the bolero with sequin adorned Peter Pan collar was worn over a fitted bodice with long tapering sleeves extending to points over the wrists. Her Juliette styled cap in white satin embroidered leaves, released the misty illusion-net veil. Her bouquet was sweet heart roses.

The maid of Honor, Ann Van Orman wore a turquoise nylon and net gown while the two bridesmaids, Laura and Katherine Brooks, sisters of the groom, were dressed in pink and blue cocktail length gowns. All carried nosegays of roses and carnations.

Supporting the groom as best man was Lorin Godfrey of Cardston.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jensen recently returned from a three months holiday to the United States. Leaving Raymond in mid December, they spent Christmas at the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Koch and family, in Salt Lake City, and also visited with other relatives and friends before going to Ephraim, Utah which was Iva's home town where many old friends were encountered. Later in Phoenix, Arizona they enjoyed some time there before travelling on to California when they made Pasadena their headquarters for interesting sight-seeing trips of wonderful California. They report a wonderful time with almost perfect weather conditions.

Mrs. Goldie Johnson Laid To Rest

A large attendance was present for the Funeral Services of the late Mrs. Harry Johnson, held in the Raymond Stake House on Monday, March 12, with Bishop Murray Holt in charge. The choir, under the direction of Beth Walker with Dorothy Neilson at the organ sang "O My Father" with invocation by I. B. Roberts. The hymn "Rock of Ages" was rendered by the choir.

President John Allen, the first speaker, paid tribute to Mrs. Johnson as a mother, and also told of knowing the family over a period of years when Mr. Johnson, who was a cheerful and dependable man, worked on the H. S. Allen farm. The speaker quoted the scripture "It is better to visit a house of mourning than a house of feasting."

The beautiful song "The Old Rugged Cross" was sung by Joe McLean. President J. Golden Snow spoke of his long acquaintances with the Johnson family and of their faithful and dependable qualities. He also expressed his belief in the hereafter and that all will be saved through the atonement.

In his closing remarks Bishop Holt gave words of consolation to the family. The closing song by the choir "The Lord Is My Shepherd", with the benediction by Elder Parley Litchfield brought the service to a close. The beautiful floral tributes were in the charge of the Relief Society.

Pallbearers were Jim Bert Still, Earnest Litchfield, Oscar Sollenback, Carl Lutz and Arthur Attwood. Interment followed at the Temple Hill Cemetery where William C. Stone offered the grave side prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garner recently entertained a few friends after church for a quiet hour of T. V. shows and visiting. Hostess served a delicious lunch.

As Zone Chairman, Joe McLean and his wife attended the 11th anniversary and Charter Night of the Hill-spring and Glenwood Lions Club. A full course banquet was enjoyed, followed by an interesting program and a picture show.

Everybody HELPS Everybody BENEFITS

Slogan for the 1956 Red Cross campaign for funds in Alberta is "It Does What You Would Do If You Were There". This is a summing up, in as few words as possible, the work of Red Cross which simply does the work which all humanitarian-minded citizens would do if they had the opportunity.

It is only logical that because all those who wish to help others cannot be on hand to do the work themselves that an organization should take over and do the job. It also is logical that an organization should coordinate the help offered and utilize it in the best means possible.

All programs of Red Cross are designed to assist suffering humanity in the best possible way and Red Cross with its provincial, national and international affiliation stands ready to expedite help across the world.

In our province, with 42 years' service and experience making a memorable contribution towards the well-being of its citizens, the Red Cross continues its efforts to prevent disease, improve health and mitigate suffering.

The enormous amount of good done by the Alberta Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital since 1922 and the Blood Transfusion Service since 1947 cannot be questioned. And, during these 42 years service, let us not forget the many programs such as the Junior Red Cross, Prisoners of War parcels, Women's Work Committee, Swimming and Water Safety and Disaster Relief which have done more than their share in rendering service.

Once each year, in March the Red Cross asks for funds to carry on its work. We cannot do less than support the Red Cross as generously as we are financially able.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mendenhall welcomed the guests as they entered. In the receiving line were the bride and groom as well as their respective parents.

Charlene Eveson of Cardston was in charge of the Guest Book while at the door nieces of the bride and groom, Sandra and Sharon Van Orman Carolyn Evenson and Grace Mendenhall took the gifts and turned them over to Mildred Mendenhall, Shirley Smith, Jazelle Ralph and Ladeen Mendenhall who unwrapped and beautifully displayed them on long tables. The reception room was tastefully decorated in blue and white. The three tiered wedding cake, on the lace covered table was beautifully decorated and topped with figures of wedding bells and doves and was flanked by blue and white tapers.

The bride's mother wore a grey crepe afternoon dress and the groom's mother chose blue crepe. Each wore a red rose corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Holmes invited the guests to the tables for lunch. Servitors were: Theodora Meeks, Lynne Galbraith, Donna Robinson and Geraldine Babb.

Jim Bridge was Master of Ceremonies for the following program: Two vocal solos by Jeanine Jensen. Reading by Viola Meeks, piano solo, Carol Holmes, two vocal solos by Evelyn Melchin. President J. Golden Snow gave the toast to the bride and the groom responded.

For her going away costume the bride chose a light blue suit with pink and navy accessories and a navy top coat with a red rose corsage.

The happy couple plan to make their home in Cardston where the groom works as an electrician. The bride, who is a R. N. will continue with her duties at the Cardston Municipal Hospital.

Cities Will Double — The increase of population during the coming quarter of a century will take place almost entirely in urban areas and will make this predominantly a land of city-dwellers, predicts a brief of Central Mortgage and Housing Corp. to the Gordon Commission and reported in The Financial Post. Between now and 1980, the extent of our cities will more than double.

It is estimated that the number of new dwellings to be built in the next quarter of a century will be about 3.4 million. The annual rate of house-building will not rise greatly during the next ten years, but after 1956 there will be an acceleration of building in response to the higher rate of family formation that will take place. The expansion of Canada's housing stock over the next 25 years will, at current costs, require the investment of some $35 billions, or more than the total value of residential real estate at the present time.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

The 3rd Ward Relief Society held their Anniversary Party in conjunction with their work and business meeting.

The opening song, "The Spirit of God Like A Fire Is Burning" was the song which was sung in the first Relief Society meeting held in 1842.

Concluding the work and business the following program began with Community singing of Irish Songs. Bertha White gave two readings followed by two Irish songs by Evelyn Melchin. Fanny Walker talked on the first Relief Society Organization and brought it up to the present time.

The highlights of the day came when Mrs. Sara B. Holt was crowned "Queen of the Day" for being the oldest Relief Society Officer present and was presented with a lovely gift in appreciation of her faithful and loyal service.

Lunch was served on a lace covered table with decorations of flowers and Shamrocks and centered with a beautifully decorated cake.

The 4th Ward Relief Society also held their anniversary party in conjunction with their lesson which was on "various ways to serve vegetables"

The ladies were invited to a buffet dinner with a traditional birthday cake centering the table which was tastefully decorated in green and white theme.

Irish songs were sung by the members, Margaret Bridge and Kay Keeler played a piano duet and Eunice Snow gave a lesson on "How to Serve". Bertha Stone, Grace Allan and Mary Rasmussen sang a trio. The older ladies of the Ward were presented with a corsage.

Robert Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Holmes, one of a number of Raymond's young people who have made good, is a fine example of the rewards of diligence, ambition and application which began early in life.

Robert finished High School in Raymond in 1946 as Valedictorian of his class. He entered the Brigham Young University of Applied Science in the School of Agricultural Chemistry in September 1946.

In 1948 he married Monette Henri of Tremont, Utah, in the Cardston Temple, and they now have four daughters. Later in 1948 he accepted a call to the New Zealand Mission where he labored for two years. As Senior Elder at Christ's Church he assisted in the organization of a school for teaching missionaries. He co-authored a book written as an aid in proselyting activities used in the New Zealand and Australian Missions prior to the acceptance of a church-wide plan.

Robert returned to the B. Y. U. in September 1950, where he maintained 2.9 scholastic average out of a perfect 3. He worked at Geneva Steel for his support. He received his B. Sc. in Agronomy in June 1952 and graduated in first place. He received a Fellowship in the Soil Department at the Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J. where he made straight A's for 3 and one half years until he received his Ph. D. He completed the requirement for his Drs. degree in September, 1955.

Robert's interest in agriculture follows through from his grandfather, the late Henry Holmes who won the title of the World's Wheat King in 1912 at the World's Dry Farming Congress held in Lethbridge.

Now at the age of 26, Robert has been appointed to the Staff of the Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa as co-director of research in Agricultural Meteorology in Canada.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT (continued from front page)

Backing up the opposition claim, an analysis of election returns last June shows Social Credit would have done slightly better had the "X" been used. The government would have elected two more members, giving it 39 seats in the house instead of 37.

The Liberal party would have elected four fewer members while Conservative and CCF parties would have elected one more each.

J. Harper Prowse, Liberal leader, described the proposed change as a "last ditch attempt to save a tottering administration—an admission of an expected defeat."

Many students of politics believe the transferable ballot system is the most fair and democratic in existence because it allows the voter to exercise second choices. When two parties are contesting a seat, it lessens the possibility of one winning with a small majority. Under a straight "X" system a candidate can win with a majority of less than 50% if the rest of the voters are split between two others.

Alberta was the first Canadian province to adopt the transferable ballot, and will be the last to drop it. Manitoba adopted it in 1931 and threw it out last year. B. C. used it only once, in 1950.

Mr. Colborne is chairman of a provincial cabinet committee which has been studying the Election Act since last summer. The committee conducted a survey into the matter and collected statistics on rejected ballots which will be presented in the house later.

The bill won't be discussed again until it comes up for second reading, and it's possible that this could develop into a hot debate.

On the other hand, some observers believe opposition members will offer only token resistance, so no one can say they are afraid of the new system.

The legislation was adjourned for two days last week while Premier Manning and Provincial Treasurer E. W. Hinman attended federal-provincial financial talks in Ottawa. Sessions resumed again Monday, with members continuing their detailed study of estimates for the coming fiscal year.

How Much of a Debt Load May a Family Carry Safely?

Is your debt more than you can afford? You can figure this yourself. To assess the soundness of your debt load, check it with the rules of professional credit men as did the March issue of Changing Times.

First, list your debts or prospective debts. Forget your mortgage, 30-day charge accounts, business loans, monthly items as milk bills, but include payments on personal loans, installment plans, car, home maintenance and improvement loans. Then consider three yardsticks by which men determine safe ratios of debt to income:

Total debt should not much exceed 20% of the annual income. A family with $4,800 in take home pay should limit debt to about $1,000.

The total you owe should not exceed the amount of 10 percent of your monthly income could pay off in 18 months. By this yardstick the debt limit of the same $400-a-month family would be $40 times 18, or $720.

Your debts should total no more than one-third of your annual "discretionary income", meaning income not needed for food, clothing and shelter. If the $4,800-a-year family spends $3,180 on these essentials, its discretionary income is $1,620. Debt limit by this yardstick would be $540.

The three yardsticks thus yield a safe debt range of roughly $500 (conservative) to $1,000 (near the ceiling) for the $4,800 family. Young men with pressing needs and prospective higher earnings may stretch the limit. Those with unusually high rent or mortgage obligations should play safe.

Credit experts warn that installment payments exceeding 25% of monthly takehome are limit loads. The risk should be spread by owing no single creditor more than 10% of the monthly income. Exceptions however, are noted. Car loan payments may safely be 15 to 30% of monthly salary.

Dana Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hawkins, recently celebrated her 5th birthday when a number of her friends were invited to a party. The children enjoyed watching T. V. shows and playing games until the hostess served them a lovely lunch.

Minted Mustard Gravy for Lamb

If you're serving roast leg of lamb try this minted mustard gravy with it. It's unusual. Pour fat and drippings from roast into a measuring cup. Return 2 tablespoons to pan; place over medium heat. Blend in 2 tablespoons of flour, 2 tbs. brown prepared mustard and 2 tbs. mint jelly. Stir good scraping bottom of pan to loosen meat pieces and cooked on juices. Gradually stir in 1½ cups water. Cook over low heat stirring until gravy thickens and boils 1 minute. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Sharks Chase Scout Swimming Down Under

Sharks as swimming companions aren't the most desirable of fish. Fifteen-year-old Dave Sadler, seen above, of Sarnia, Ont., found this out one day while swimming at a beach in Australia, where he was attending the scout jamboree. Although he says he "wasn't frightened," he nevertheless got out of the water pretty fast. Dave recalled this little incident during stopover in Vancouver, en route home to Sarnia. Six other Canadian scouts accompanied Dave to the 21st national scout jamboree in Australia.

Record Wage Bill Some $12.8 billions was paid Canadian workers during 1955 and it's 7.5% more than what they earned in 1954, reports the Financial Post. Labour income for the construction group rose 13.5%; finance and services 9.5%; distributive group 6%; primary industries 3%.

U. S. ELECTIONS AND BUSINESS

How much do U.S. elections really effect business, American and Canadian? Not much, answers the Financial Post, which points out:

There have been 14 presidential elections in the United States since the turn of the century. Only four has there been a downturn in business during the following year. Two of these occasions were at the beginning of world wars; the other two at the beginning of reconversion.

There's not much evidence that the presidential election had any effect, good or bad, on business in any of the 14 presidential years.

As to the stock market, it has gone up eight times immediately following a presidential election and down six times. The political label of the winning candidate seems to have nothing to do with the market aside from day to day fluctuations, stocks can rise with a Democratic or drop with a Republican -- or vice versa.

JOYCE MILNER

Mrs. Della Grigor sang "A Brides Prayer" during the signing of the register. Mrs. Emma Dahl played the wedding music. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Christensen assisted in welcoming the guests.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the L. D. S. recreation hall. The parents of the bride assisted in receiving the guests. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with white doves and silver wedding bells set in yellow net and flanked by lighted yellow tapers.

The luncheon was served under the direction of Mrs. Marion Tollestrup assisted by Mrs. Wilson Rolfsen, Mrs. Orrin Tuner, Mrs. John Geremia and Mrs. Jean Peterson. Serviteurs were Barbara Tollestrup, Lynne Galbraith, and Randy and Bobby Milner. Mrs. Earl Grigor was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Stuart Hatch, Mrs. Donald Nilsson and Mrs. Walter Milner assisted at the gift table.

Mr. Stuart Hatch acted as master of ceremonies for the program. Those taking part were Lowell Wide, Miss Lynne Galbraith, Mrs. Walter Milner, Mrs. Arlie Hudson, Mrs. Della Grigor and Mrs. Emma Dahl. The toast to the bride was given by Donald Nilsson with the groom responding.

Out of town guests were from Lethbridge, New Dayton, Milk River, Magrath and Livingston and Helena Mont. The happy couple will make their home in Asotin, Washington.

Floor Waxes Analyzed

Not every young bride knows how to keep the floors of a new home in good condition; but if she will master this problem immediately it will pay her dividends in good housekeeping satisfaction.

A recent bulletin from the University of Massachusetts presents good advice from Verda M. Dale, specialist in home management. She begins by analyzing the types of floor wax now on the market which often baffle even experienced housewives.

Roughly waxes fall into two categories: the solvent-based or polishing type, and the water-based or self-polishing type. They are easily identified as all polishing types have a solvent base that smells a little like naphtha or gasoline.

Paste wax is this type. As more solvent is added, the wax becomes a cream consistency or even a liquid. Waxes of this type can usually be used as a combination cleaner and wax since the solvent in them will dissolve grease spots and float away other types of soil.

Besides being good for cleaning wooden floors, they are excellent for wiping away fingerprints on woodwork. This type of wax must be polished.

The self-polishing type of wax has a water base. The wax is applied in a thin film, the water evaporates, and the wax remaining on the floor gives the protection. Water-based wax is the only safe type for asphalt and rubber tile, as solvent-based waxes will damage these flooring materials.

Miss Dale cautions against applying too much wax at one time. The most satisfactory and the safest waxed floors have only thin coats of wax thoroughly dried and buffed hard. When washing floors with water, thoroughly rinse away all soap or detergent. These materials prevent wax from hardening and result in slippery or scuffed floors.

Several companies are now making combination scrubbers and polishers for home use. These light-weight machines take much of the drudgery out of floor care. It is necessary to mop up suds and water after the scrubbing, but long handled cellulose mops do this easily and quickly.

WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE 1817

Canadian homemakers have learned an extremely helpful secret in recent years. For a long time now, they've realized that tomato ketchup is good as it comes from the bottle as a sauce for steaks, chops, hamburger, fish, and dozens of other dishes.

Lately, however, we've all acknowledged that this world's best known sauce can be used as an ingredient - an "instant" preparation, if you like - for the most tempting main dishes possible. Now, in a refreshingly different way, it's even creeping into desserts to give a delightful and tangy new taste.

As a rule, a bottle of this versatile sauce is within easy reach, for it's doubtful if there's a pantry shelf in all Canada without one.

Our favourite ketchup recipe is called Shrimp Fiesta. A good one to keep in mind for Lent, too. Buy 1 1/2 pounds of green shrimp, fresh or frozen, cook it, clean it, then combine it in a skillet with saute'd onion, 2 cans condensed cream of mushroom or cream of celery soup, undiluted, and 1/2 cup milk. Then pick up the flavour with the addition of 1/4 cup rich, thick tomato ketchup or chili sauce and a generous dash of chili powder. Simmer for a brief 10 minutes and serve over toast. Here's the recipe for clipping.

Shrimp Fiesta

1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tins Condensed Cream of Mushroom or Cream of Celery Soup, undiluted
3/4-1 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup Tomato Ketchup or Chili Sauce
3/4 pound cooked, cleaned shrimp (1 1/2 pounds green)

Saute onion in butter until tender. Stir in remaining ingredients. Simmer, stirring occasionally, for 10 minutes. Serve over toast. Makes 5-6 servings.

Another temptingly different recipe is steaming, spicy Jambalayah. Each restaurant's recipe for the dish varies, but here's one we especially like:

Jambalayah

3/4 cups hot cooked rice (3/4 - 1 cup uncooked)
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tin Condensed Cream of Tomato Soup, undiluted
1/4 cup Tomato Ketchup
1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 pound fresh or frozen shrimp, cooked and cleaned

Cook rice in salted water until tender. Meanwhile saute celery, onion and green pepper in butter. When tender add soup and next 3 ingredients. Simmer, covered, for 5 minutes stirring occasionally. Add shrimp; simmer 5 minutes more. Serve over hot rice. Makes 4 servings.

MARQUIS SERVED ITS PURPOSE

It was Marquis Wheat, developed by Charles Saunders of Ottawa, which opened the Canadian West and large areas elsewhere to grain growing nearly half a century ago, says The Financial Post, but there are only a few pockets of this variety grown today.

Marquis opened new wheat country but it took other varieties to keep it open. Chief weakness of Marquis was its susceptibility to rust which in bad years wiped out the crop. So improvements came along like Thatcher, Selkirk and Saunders, some developed in Canada and some in the United States.

Grain growing, at least so far as Canada is concerned, has been a partnership. In the centre, of course, is the farmer, but furnishing vital support has been the scientist with his constant stream of new improved varieties, and the implement manufacturer with mechanization.

HEALTH Services

Good health is the most valuable of all resources of any country. In Alberta the Department of health is responsible for safeguarding this resource by seeking to prevent disease or, when it strikes, to assist in the recovery of the afflicted.

Today Government Health Services are offered on a scale that was financially impossible a few years ago. A large share of the provincial income is diverted to maintaining the highest possible standard of public health.

Last year the overall expenditure for health services in Alberta—nearly $24,500,000—was 7 1/2 times the amount spent ten years ago.

What does this money provide for the people of Alberta? It provides direct health benefits in the way of:—

1. HOSPITAL AND MEDICAL SERVICES—such as hospital grants; supervision of hospitals; free maternity hospitalization; hospitalization of various pensioners and recipients of mothers' allowances, and the provincial hospital insurance program.
2. PROVINCIAL LABORATORIES—distribution of serums and vaccines; examinations and analysis for the detection and control of disease.
3. MENTAL HEALTH—hospitalization, medical and nursing care and treatment for the mentally ill.
4. SOCIAL HYGIENE—cure and control of venereal diseases through clinics and lectures.
5. TUBERCULOSIS DIVISION—free diagnostic and treatment service for all tuberculosis cases.
6. CANCER—diagnosis, radium, X-ray, surgical and cobalt "bomb" treatments for cancer sufferers.
7. CEREBRAL PALSY—diagnosis and treatment clinics.
8. RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS CLINICS—90 days' free hospitalization and treatment for Albertans under 25 years of age.

EDUCATION AND RESEARCH FOR BETTER PUBLIC HEALTH

1. PUBLIC HEALTH BENEFITS—literature, lectures, radio programs and motion pictures to encourage better health practices.
2. COMMUNICABLE DISEASES—recording the incidence of communicable diseases; providing information on the most effective methods of prevention and control.
3. ENTOMOLOGY—studies and practices the control of insect-borne diseases.
4. SANITARY ENGINEERING—supervises water supplies and sewage disposal systems; inspects hotels, restaurants, slaughter houses and dairies in rural communities.
5. NUTRITION—conducts educational work for better eating habits and more nourishing diets.
6. VITAL STATISTICS—records all births, marriages and deaths.
7. PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING—organizes health programs for rural communities.

Sharpen Your Wits

It was Dante who wrote the line, 'All hope abandon ye who enter here' It is claimed this sentence can be written 100 different ways using the same words and retaining the same meaning. Two different ways are: 'Abandon hope all ye who enter here' and 'Ye who enter here abandon all hope'. Perhaps you can't figure out all the 97 ways but you could have a contest with your wife to see who can write the sentence being discussed in the most different ways in 15 minutes.
